The Shropshire SEND Strategy

“We want Shropshire children and young people with SEND to be healthy, happy and safe, and able to achieve their potential to lead a fulfilling life. We want them to have, and to expect, the same opportunities in life as other children and young people. We will achieve this by understanding what children and young people need, working in partnership and with children and young people to meet that need, and measuring our success by whether we achieve a “dream life” for children and young people with SEND”

Young people told us that their dream life includes;

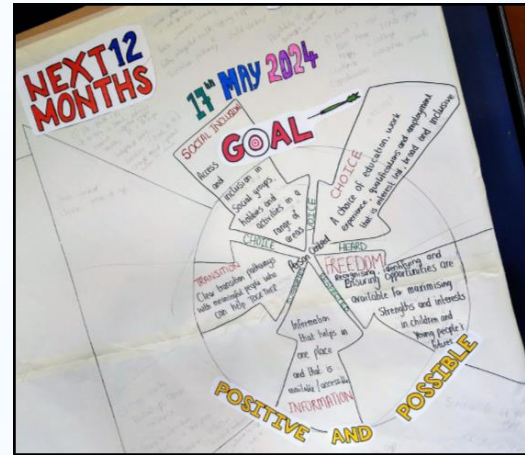

- having a job or vocation
- having friends and being able to play a full part in their community
- being independent and living in their own home
- having a voice on how they live their lives
- having access to good and consistent support, especially in times of transition

Measuring Success

- more young people with SEND in paid employment or voluntary roles
- young people with SEND are more active in their community and spend more leisure time in friendship groups
- an increase in the number of young people with SEND who express satisfaction with their accommodation arrangements
- children and young people with SEND are able to actively participate in decision making both on an individual and strategic level
- children and young people with SEND and their families receive good quality support, especially at transition points, including early intervention
- a reduction in health inequalities experienced by children and young people with SEND

Co-Production

- we engage children and young people, and their parents and carers in informing decisions about the strategic commissioning of services
- we continually assess our success in delivering the key elements of a “dream life” for children and young people with SEND, and what we need to do further to improve, through continual feedback from children and young people, and their parents and carers.
